SEMINARY NOTES

The Rev. Dr. Berryman Green, dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, near this city, took the services at St. Paul's Church, Richmond, Va., last Sunday.

The Rev. Prof. S. A. Wallis, D. D., held the services at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Haymarket on Sunday last. An interesting part of the service was the dedication of a beautiful window in the choir of that church by Dr. Wallis to the memory of Rear Admiral Thomas Williamson, Chief of Engineers, U. S. N., who died at Annapolis, Md., last spring at the age of 84 years. The window was covered by the U. S. flag which was placed on the read admiral's coffin at the time of his funeral, and was unveiled during the service by his grandson, Mr. Thomas Williamson. The family has a home near Gainesville during the summer and many of the members were present at the service. As Sunday was the festival of St. Michael and All Angels, the subject of the sermon was the Ministry of Angels as revealed in Holy Scripture.

A new student, Mr. Ephriam Raymond de Pui, arrived at the Seminary last night. Two more are expected, which will make the number of those entering this year thirteen.

ALLIES' STEAM ROLLER

Penetrate German Front Nine Miles—Roulers Captured And U-Boat Bases Bombed.

London, Oct. 1.—Foch's far-flung attacking front in the West moved forward relentlessly yesterday, hammering new breaches into the main German line of resistance. The allied American successes were less spectacular than Sunday, but they paved the way for developments of tremendous scope.

In the north, between Ypres and the sea, the valiant Belgian army swept forward again, with their British comrades keeping step on the right. Fully two miles further headway was made, bringing the total penetration of the German front up to nine miles.

Roulers was captured, and this spells the gravest menace to the German U-boat bases, some twenty-three miles to the north on the Flanders coast, at Ostend and Zeebrugge.

Already British seaplanes have begun bombing those bases and successfully attacking German destroyers.

But what is more, a further advance of some ten miles will bring the Belgians to Courtari, and that would mean the turning of the whole German front from the north.

London, Oct. 1.—Excellent news is coming from all the battle sectors of the West front.

The British are reported fighting their way through Cambrai.

They have captured Grevecouer, 4 miles southeast of Cambrai, and Villers-Guislain, nine miles southwest of Cambrai.

The French now have half of the Chemin-des-Dames and the Americans are clearing the other half.

The French army between the Aisne and the Vesle, attacked successfully today and reached Revillon and Jonchery.

Heavy fighting took place in the Argonne, the Americans scoring a slight advance.

HUNS FACING CAPTURE

Annihilation of Two Division Seems to be a Certainty, as Retreat is Cut Off.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Annihilation or capture of two complete German divisions in the Argonne forest seemed a certainty today.

The two divisions are trapped in the forest, which has been practically surrounded by General Gourauds French army on the west and the American army on the east. The two allied forces are reported to have effected a junction in the valley of the Aire on the north of the forest. If they have, the last means of retreat for the Germans from the forest has been cut off.

General Gouraud's army is today nearing Mont Hois, and the fall of that important city is believed near. The Germans have been fighting stubbornly, contesting every foot of ground, but the French have pushed them back steadily.

Premier Clemenceau watched the fighting in the Champagne, Sunday. He made his way to a front line trench and watched the fighting from the firing step.

CANTER DISCHARGED

Suspected Murderer Desires to Enlist After Sixth Trial.

Bristol, Va., Oct. 1.—After having been on trial six times charged with the murder of Mrs. Maude Wilson at her home several miles north of here in April, 1915, James Canter was discharged by the Washington county circuit court in session at Abingdon, Va., yesterday when the prosecuting attorney informed the court that he had no new evidence to offer. Immediately upon being released Canter expressed a desire to join the army. When he was placed in jail at Abingdon nearly four years ago, Canter could neither read nor write. He is now said to be well educated.

Four of the six trials resulted in hung juries. Two—the first and the last—were conviction of murder in the first degree, but on appeal to the supreme court the case was ordered reheard. During his sixth trial Canter was offered a compromise of five years' imprisonment, but refused, stating that he would rather die in the electric chair than spend a day in prison self-convicted for a crime he did not commit.

His brother Luther was electrocuted in 1915 for the crime and exonerated James of all connection with the murder.

WANT HONOR FLAG

Local Liberty Loan Committee Anxious For Prize—Speaking Nightly at Movie Houses For Loan—Campaign Progressing Satisfactory.

The local Liberty Loan Committee is working hard to secure for this city the honor flag. Judging by the large sale of bonds made thus far Alexandria soon may obtain this coveted flag. The flag which has been designated as the Community Honor Flag is similar to that used in the Third Campaign

From now on there will be public speaking in the moving picture theaters nightly in the interest of the sale of bonds.

John H. Trimyer last night spoke at the Richmond Theater. A different speaker will be assigned nightly.

The honor flag bears four blue stripes, indicating the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The following rules govern the award of Honor Flags:

The flag will be awarded to any county, district, or sub-division thereof, such as city, township or village, to which a definite quota has been allotted by the Central Federal Reserve Bank Committee. But will be awarded only when the community's full quota has been subscribed by at least 10 ten per cent of the population.

The minimum quota of any community, division or sub-division of a county, which has not been given in the allotment report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, is $20 per capita, based upon the actual population, as locally known or estimated but not less than the census of 1910.

A blue star will be awarded for each 50 per cent subscribed in excess of the quota.

It is urged that the award of this Honor Flag and the award of stars be celebrated with rallies, patriotic addresses and other demonstrations.

When any community has reached its allotted quota, 10 per cent of the ... subscribed, the local committee chairman, or representative, shall notify his county chairman, on requisition forms prepared for the purpose, stating the name of the community, its allotted quota, population, amount of subscriptions received, and number of subscribers. The requisition will require the approval of the county chairman and when approved he should forward it to the state chairman who will furnish the flag and send the requisition to the Honor Flag Bureau, Federal Reserve Bank, Richmond, Va., for record on the Honor Roll.

A blue star may be added to the Flag for each 50 per cent by which the quota has been exceeded. And in such cases the community chairman or representative, will notify his county chairman, who will forward the report to the state chairman. The community will then be authorized to make and affix a star to its flag.

CARDINALS WIN TITLE.

The Cardinal A. C. of this city closes its baseball season holder of the northern Virginia championship.

The Cardinals defeated the Clarendons in eleven innings, 9 to 8. Two more games were due to be played, but the Clarendons could not get a team together, and so lost by default.

Notwithstanding the fact that the new champions have many of their star players in France fighting in the lines with their allies and others in the United States Navy and various branches of Uncle Sam's service doing their bit to defeat the Kaiser and win the war, the home team managed to muster the hardest hitting and best line up they have had during the clubs' career to use in the 1918 series against the Clarendon clan, and were disappointed when they refused to play in the American League Park Sunday, September 22, as had been agreed to by both teams.

NOTICE

The water mains of the city will be flushed Thursday, beginning at 1 p. m. Alexandria Water Company.

OFFICERS MASSACRED

Revolt Confronts Central Powers With Rumanian Preparation to Resume Hostilities.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Several regiments belonging to Austrian garrisons in Bulgaria have mutinied and massacred their officers, according to word from Saloniki received here last night.

London, Oct. 1.—A large Turkish force, including the garrisons between Ammon and Maon have surrendered, the war office announced last night. Latest word from the Palestine front showed this force to be at least 10,000 strong.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The following brief, but significant, statement was made to a newspaper correspondent yesterday by Take Jonescu, former foreign minister of Rumania.

The beast is mortally wounded.

Bulgaria's surrender means the re-establishment of an allied front on the Danube and the re-entry of Rumania into the war.

All that my outraged country desires is to get back into war against the common foe.

Great stores of arms and ammunition probably have been left by the Germans.

The allies, I hope, will supply us and enable us to re-establish an eastern front against Austria.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Bulgaria's capitulation to the allies is deemed the greatest single military achievement of the war, in the opinion of military men here.

It opens the way for a drive on Austria-Hungary, puts Turkey out of the running as an ally of Germany, and incidentally releases the ... men for duty on the West front should they ever again be needed there.

Strong reports in Washington yesterday were to the effect that Turkey, with complete realization that the "jig is up," had made overtures to the allies, and that negotiations toward peace were already under way. These reports lacked confirmation, but whether or not true, the fact remains, ... and military men say, that it is only a question of time before Turkey succumbs to the military superiority of the British in the Holy Land, and other allied forces which may proceed against her.

RICHMOND TONIGHT

Never has Tom Mix appeared in a more thrilling story than in his latest William Fox picture, "Mr. Logan U. S. A." This photoplay which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre tonight is one that will hold any audience by the hazardous feats of that virile portrayer of Western roles.

The story deals with the Huns in our midst who try to paralyze our industrial activities through cunning machinations. In "Mr. Logan, U. S. A." these agitators try to sow the seed of discontent among miners who are engaged in the all important tungsten mines of our Western States.

Tom Mix as the secret service man who works among these miners to discover and frustrate this plot, scorned by the girl he loves as a slacker. How he thwarts this country's enemies and finally demonstrates to the girl that Uncle Sam has no more ardent supporter is developed in a novel way that is full of surprises.

Pathe News will also be shown.

THE STILL COLD HAND OF DEATH.

Crape is upon doors in Alexandria, three of her valiant sons having passed into the great beyond during the past few days. They were in the service of their country when death overtook them. The young men cut down at the portals of manhood, however, were still on the American continent, and the last hours of one were in the presence of loved ones who had hastened to his side. Another was in faraway Canada, but was doubtless ministered unto with earnest attention ere he entered the realms of light. The third was at Camp Lee in his native State.

The heretofore black stars in the home banners are now glistening in silver. Those they represent performed their duty and now sleep as soldiers.

Chaplin Eppes Evans, Herbert C. Bernhardt, and John Crilly, Jr., are now no more. Fond parents and friends have received the last missives from them. They are in a realm where there is no more death, sorrow or crying and where we are told God wipes all tears from the eyes. Sorrow may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning, and they who sow in tears shall reap in joy. Comforting words in our hours of affliction.

Many Alexandrians are in the American army. A large number are in France, and ever and anon letters from them are brought to our doors. These missives are taken from the hands of the carriers with eagerness. Some anxious loved ones in our own city, however, are not receiving letters from their boys save at long intervals, which causes anxiety, yea, depression and all sorts of sad speculations. Visions of hospitals, German prisons and the fate of former President Roosevelt's son follow the anxious ones as they endeavor to feed upon Hope.

So far, however, we have much for which to be thankful. Our casualty list has been small, and as the curtain is believed to have risen upon the last act in the fearful tragedy the hope is growing that ere grim winter gets in the curtain will have fallen upon the most sanguinary conflict the world has ever known.

IS PEACE IN SIGHT?

For the first time since the Allies assumed the offensive in France, Washington is taking with the utmost consciousness the prospectof an early peace. Not all of the Capital, of course, is of one mind regarding the possibilities of the immediate future but the surrender of Bulgaria with its far-reaching consequences, is looked upon generally as the beginning of an end which may come with the same suddenness that marked the beginning of the war.

Now that Bulgaria has been absolutely eliminated as a military factor overtures for a separate peace are expected from Turkey at any hour. It is inconceivable that the Turks, already whipped in the field and manifestly doomed to overwhelming defeat before the finish, will decide to fight on. To do so would be suicidal. Unsupported by her Allies and hard-driven by enemy armies soon or late she must lay down her arms and the feeling in general that this will not only come soon, but very soon.

With Austria thereby threatened by the whole of the Macedonian Army, to say nothing of the Italians on the Piave, the Roumanians in Transylvania and the defection of the Czechs and Slavs at home, she cannot hope to hold out a great while unless an early winter intervenes in her behalf. And an early winter means an early return of desperate food conditions from end to end of the Dual Monarchy.

Bereft of Allies by such eventualities as just indicated; beaten on every field of battle; face to face with an alarming situation in Russia; confronted by an American Army in France which is increasing its strength at the rate of 10,000 men a day, and with economic conditions growing steadily worse, the German government may likewise see the futility of prolonging a hopeless struggle and may make overtures of peace which the Allies will feel that they must entertain.

This is the roseate view which public officials are taking of the future. Some are even predicting that the war will end in six weeks; others that it will end before Christmas, and still others that it will come any day. The whole capital was buzzing with peace talk this afternoon. Members of the House and Senate seemed carried away with optismism, declaring that the snapping of the chain of the Central Powers in Bulgaria meant that the whole structure would collapse just as soon as the German Army and the German people learn that the old Alliance has broken down and that it would be murderous to keep on feeding themselves into the enemy maw.

WILSON AND SUFFRAGE

President Wilson's speech before the United States Senate yesterday in which he advocated woman suffrage is being read with the keenest interest by both sexes. He said many things calculated to set people thinking, and cast searchlight on many arguments used by those who oppose enfranchising those of the weaker sex. Among other things he said:

Are we alone to ask and take the utmost that our women can give—service, and sacrifice of every kind—and still say we do not see what title that gives them to stand by our sides in the guidance of the affairs of their nation and ours? We have made partners of the women in this war; shall we admit them only to a partnership of suffering, sacrifice and toil andn ot to a partnership of privilege and right. This war could not have been fought either by the other nations engaged or by Aemrica if it had not been for the services of women. They have worked wherever men have worked and upon the very skirts and edges of the battle itself. We shall not only be distrusted but shall deserve to be distrusted if we do not enfranchise them with the fullest possible enfranchisement, as it is now certain that the other great free nations will enfranchise them. We cannot isolate our thought and action in such a matter from the thought of the rest of the world. We must either conform or deliberately reject what they propose and resign the leadership of liberal minds to others.

"The women of America are too noble and intelligent and too devoted to be slackers whether you give or withhold this thing that is mere justice. But I know the magic it will work in their thoughts and spirits if you give it them. I propose it as I would propose to admit soldiers to the suffrage, the men fighting in the field for our liberties and the liberties of the world, were they excluded. The tasks of the women lie at the very heart of the war and I know how much stronger the heart will beat if you do this just thing and show our women that you trust them as much as you in fact and of necessity depend upon them."

ALLIES SWEEPING ON

The past week has been the most amazing of the war. The Allies advanced victoriously on practically every front, and took prisoners far in excess of 100,000, of whom nearly 40,000 were captured in three days on the west front and 50,000 in Palestine. They also have taken more than 900 guns.

Big events are following one another in swift succession this week. Yesterday's developments were: Bulgaria has surrendered unconditionally. An armistice signed and hostilities ceased at noon.

The German dream of middle Eastern empire has gone forever.

A peace bid from Turkey is expected momentarily.

Two Turkish garrisons, 10,000 strong, were captured in Palestine.

The Austrian Parliament has moved to invite peace discussion through all other parliaments.

The northern suburbs of Cambrai are in British hands.

The Allies gained two miles beyond the main Hindenburg line on an eight-mile front.

The Belgians and British have plunged ahead in Flanders and the whole German front there is giving away.

The French and Americans are smashing forward on the Champagne-Meuse front.

Half of Chemin-des-Dames is in French hands as the Germans retire.

Hertling and Hintze are reported out and a German cabinet crisis now threatens.

TURNING CLOCKS AHEAD

Estimated Nation Has Saved Up One And a Quarter Million Tons in Seven Months.

One and a quarter million tons of coal saved just by turning the clock ahead an hour for seven months.

That is the estimate of the United States fuel administration of economy effected by lessening the load on lighting plants through the daylight saving scheme.

The statistics for the seven months that will end when the clocks are turned back again at 2 o'clock in the morning of Sunday, October 27, indicate a greater saving in America than was effected in France in a period for which statistics are available.

Definite reports from St. Louis show a saving of 17.5 tons for each thousand of population on the seven months' basis. The saving in France for a three and a half month period was 250,000 tons, which would make a saving of 12.5 tons for each thousand of population in a seven months' period, according to the figures of the fuel administration.

Money Makes the Ships Go!
By CHARLES M. SCHWAB

Despite the fact that we have made real progress in shipbuilding, it must be remembered by every patriotic American that the need for ships increases proportionately with the increase in the size of our fighting forces overseas. Transporting troops to Europe is only one-fourth of the task that our shipping facilities must bear. The other three-fourths is the carrying of supplies and munitions of war.

Ships cannot be built without money. In war time it takes a great deal of money. Undoubtedly after the war is over the ships that we are building now will pay for themselves many times over. But the immediate need is money and the whole-hearted support of the entire nation.

If the American people could visualize what has been done in our shipyards with the money that they invested in the first Liberty Loans, I am sure they would be as proud and as enthusiastic as I am. The ships that we have built and are building should persuade the most cautious investor to put his money into Liberty Bonds of the fourth issue.

WILSON FAVORS SUFFRAGE

Says it is Vitally Essential to Successful Prosecution of Great War of Humanity.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Shortly and sharply President Wilson yesterday called upon the United States Senate to pass a constitutional amendment granting women full and equal suffrage with men.

"As Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy," he declared suffrage to be "vitally essential to the successful prosecution of the great war of humanity."

The President declared it his duty to "ask you to remove every obstacle that stands in the way of winning the war."

Because this is a "people's war and the "people's thinking constitutes its atmosphere and morale, not the predilections of the drawing room "or the political considerations of the caucus," he said, suffrage is vital now as "proof of our sincerity" that we would lead the world in democracy.

If we fail to accomplish this, he warned, "in ignorance or defiance of what a new age has brought forth," the peoples will cease to believe, follow and trust us.

The President snatched the issue out of party politics, noting that both great parties are specifically pledged to its adoption and placed it on the basis of not only a war need, but also as vital to the right solution of the great problems which we must settle and settle immediately when the war is over.

Without women's counselings, he added. we can be only half wise.

The President pointed out that other governments have accepted suffrage We must either conform to the world suffrage appeal, he declared, or deliberately reject and resign the leadership of liberal minds to others.

AUTO WRECK AT CROSSING.

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Two persons were killed and three injured when a train struck an automobile at an unprotected crossing at Blenheim, on the Grenlock branch of the Reading Railway, early Sunday morning. The dead are George Ward, a machinist, 55, years old, and Arthur Devall, 14 years old, The injured are Mary Devall, 25 years old, sister of the boy.

The five were in a touring car driven by Eastlack when it was struck by a south-bound train. Three of the party Ward, Miss Devall and her brother, were caught under the overturned automobile, and it was nearly 20 minutes before Miss Devall could be released.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Lieut. Godman, of Oregon, pilot, was fatally injured and Lieut. Thomas, an observer, was seriously injured shortly after noon Saturday, at Columbia, S. C., when the airplane from which they were dropping Liberty bond literature on the crowds viewing the military parade on Main St., became unmanageable and fell to the ground. A second observer escaped unhurt. Godman died on the operating table at a local hospital a few minutes after the accident. Thomas suffered several broken ribs, but his injuries are not considered fatal.

Private Percy Gaulding, of Honey Grove, Texas, serving in the American expeditionary forces in France, in a censored letter to a friend says: "Recently our boys went over the top and captured five women. They were chained to a machine gun. Three of them were dead, and they wore men's clothes. You can just imagine what a horrible scene this was. I would like to tell more, but I know I cannot."

The text of the declaration recently made by Admiral von Hintz, the German foreign secretary, regarding the differences between Spain and Germany shows, according to a wireless dispatch received in Paris from the Spanish embassy at Berlin, that the German concessions are limited. Germany consents to replace sunken Spanish ships by German ships interned for the duration of the war, but exacts an indemnity for these vessels. Further the offer only applies to ships sunk outside of the German prohibited zone, within which Germany reserves the right to sink vessels without compensation.

The body of John H. Crowley, aged 51, of Washington, who has been missing from his home since Sunday, was found yesterday under the wharf at the foot of Jefferson street northwest. Crowley, who was paralytic, is said by the police to have become despondent over his condition and committed suicide by jumping overboard.

Chancellor von Hertling and Foreign Secretary von Hintze have tendered their resignation to the emperor, the Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, says it understands. Emperor William has accepted the resignations of Count von Hertling and Admiral von Hintze, according to the Zeitung Amittig, of Berlin.

GRANDMA'S Powdered SOAP

Think of the time and bother and the waste of cutting or chipping bar soap and the rubbing off of a whole bar. There is no reason for that now and, besides, it costs money. It's different with Grandma. You measure out just what you need but no more. It stops waste and saves work. That is real soap economy.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the Latrobe stoves.

THE BITTER AND THE SWEET

While startling events are following each other closely, and signs are in evidence that the beginning of the present fearful war is at hand, and while the civilized world is tempted to breathe easier, a world-wide epidemic is prevailing. Deaths are becoming numerous, and in our own city many are sick, some ill and others are paying the debt of nature. Several Alexandrians have passed away during the past few days, and fears are expected that death has marked others for its own.

While the Hun armies are meeting defeat everywhere, the foundations of the central powers shaking as they never have before, pestilence has suddenly appeared, causing distress in every section of the globe.

We are still in the clash of war but with breaking clouds, while want and in some nations famine are adding to the mortuary lists. Now pestilence is seen to be following war and its incidental horrors.

Dangerous influenza is spreading rapidly, so much so that military camps are being quarantined and every means resorted to in order to check the malady.

While some physcians tell us Spanish influenza is no more than ordinary grippe, the fact remains that this scourge generally rages in winter—during the months of January, February and March. We are now passing through the early part of fall, a season generally healthful, and we had no reason to anticipate an epidemic of colds, grip, or influenza at this time. Yet thousands of persons are prostrated and many have been lain low by this terrible scourge.

While the war may be passing away the human race is facing another menace, and no one can tell what is to follow in the wake of this last affliction.

WAR EDITORIALS

An editorial writer of the Gazette was accosted a few days ago with the following: "I enjoy your writings, but why not write something except war editorials?"

The Richmond Virginian, forced to answer a similar question, says: "Had the questioner seriously pondered the matter, the query would never have been made. We are living in a time the like of which the world never before experienced. Throughout all the ages wars have afflicted the races of men. Strife and sorrow have written their records upon the pages of history, but not since the beginning of time has such a cataclysm of blood and fire swept over the earth as today engages the mind and heart of mankind.

"Children in the years to come will ask the old men who may have lived in the present decade what did it all look like, how did the people act and what did they do. They will wonder if the very air we breathe was not different, and feel that the relics of a wonderous race yet linger to tell them of the things that happened but once, and will never happen again.

All of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, both Americas and the islands of the seas are wrapped in the world's deluge of destruction.

In our own country forty-eight great commonwealths are night and day struggling with might and main to accomplish a victory and end the terrible conflict. The federal government, functioning as the instrument of these states, calls every man, woman and child to a service which overshadows every other thought and enterprise.

"All is war—the very food we eat, the clothes we wear, the fires by which we warm. All industry and life are absorbed by the one supreme and common purpose. All we do or say, all we think or feel, our daily going and coming, our sleeping and waking, our daylight and darkness are invested and regulated without condition or reserve in the sublimest tragedy of the ages.

"Why do we write of war? The answer is simple. There is naught else save those high ideals for which we fight. The flowers of the field and the birds of the air, the seasons that go and come, the sunshine and the shadows, the raging hurricanes and the gentle breezes; all love and hate, all truth and falsehood, all sentiment and sorrow and sacrifice—all are enveloped in the one superthought and purpose—the war.

JEWS IN WORLD WAR

The Clerical Brotherhood at its meeting Monday morning in the Church House, Philadelphia, planned the work of the body for the season and appointed committees to formulate a program and choose speakers for the various meetings.

John L. Zacker, superintendent of the episcopal work among the Jews made an address on "A Key to the World War," in which he showed the position of the Jew in the present war. Mr. Zacker contended that if the Jew up to the present had not publicly rendered homage to the sublime moral beauty of the figure of Jesus it was because their tormentors had always persecuted, tortured and assassinated them in His name. After showing the friendliness which had been manifested to the Jews by the various nations of Europe, the speaker said:

"Russia's autocracy is paying her debt for the blood of the Jew required at her hands. Spain, which drove out the Jews was so ignominously, and endeavored to abolish Israel's vitality, was once a strong union, but now she confesses that the reason for her weakness is because they have no Jews, and when the King was at Jerusalem, in his public address, he begged them to return. Spain, without the Jews is nothing to what she was with the Jews. Austria, a hotbed of anti-Semiticism, today is in mortal dread, for the day of God's revenge is near at hand. So in Germany the harPquiredtedudm orm roh roh rohr tied toward the Jew has grown immensely in the recent past. It was not a long ago that one of their professors of German "kultur" was reported to have said: "The Christian religion is too Jew and Germany should turn away from Jesus, the Jew, who is called the Prince of Peace, and turn back to the Teutons ancient god of war, the mighty Thor which would give Germany a greater military zeal. In order for the Jews of Germany, to obtain any position in society they are compelled to become baptized. Who would have dreamed even five years ago that practically the whole world would rise up in arms against so much conceit and hypocrisy which enables her to call a devil an angel and base wickedness, righteousnss."

Thank God for the capture of Jerusalem——it was indeed providential. The Jews have done their utmost to attain this goal and at last the day has come. During the past 30 years Baron Edmund de Rotschild spent no less than one hundred million francs in settling the Jews in Palestine. Baron Hirsch left fifteen million pounds, and, in addition to these amounts, money has been gathered throughout the world in an effort to remove the Jews from Russian persecution. This war is as much the war of the Jews all over the world as it is the war of the Allies or the United States.

NO TIME FOR ISMS

The war in which the people of America are now taking a most active part has been well defined by a leading English statesman as "an open conflict between Christian civilization and scientific barbarism; a struggle instantly and in reality between the forces of good and evil, between right and wrong."

As a contemporary says, there can be no side-stepping until the war for right is brought to a victorious conclusion. The whole strength and energy of our whole people should be unreservedly brought to bear to make the quickest possible finish of the bloody task.

Cardinal Gibbons has said a most timely word in asking that all differences increeds be cast aside and all religious sects work side by side for the common good until American arms are victorious. The patriotic prelate sets a fine example for patriotic prohibitionists, protectionists, suffragists and socialists. Until we can win the fight against militarism there is no time to properly deal with other "isms." We are making war through the future arbitrament of a League of Nations empowered to enforce "the reign oflaw based upon the consent of the governed and sustained by the organized opinion of mankind."

History furnishes no precedent for the unselfish part America is playing in this great struggle to establish justice and right for all nations, great and small, in all parts of the world. It is realy a kind of treason to in any way hinder or divert from its fixed purpose the will to make a noble finish of the noble work we have undertaken.

"The Army and Navy will dig the Huns' grave, but We must furnish Spade"

Billy Sunday.

By Rev. William A. Sunday

Uncle Sam's Liberty war chest needs filling again!

We have the cash to fill it as many times as he lifts the lid.

There are only two horns to this dilemma—you are either a patriot or a traitor.

The men on the firing line and on the battleships have turned from business, home, mother, wife, children, and they stand ready to give their lives and shield with their bodies us who remain at home.

We are unworthy to be thus protected if we do not do our utmost to sustain them.

We must be one in our determinaion to win this war. We are traitors to the cause for which they are giving their lives ,if we do things here that make their efforts harder.

Life is not worth living unless there is something to live for. Life would not be worth living if that bunch of Heinies should win.

That is why they cannot win. That is why we cannot lose.

What a mountain of crime God has on his books against that horde of Hellish Huns. What grave is deep enough for this thousand-armed thousand footed, thousand-headed, thousand-horned, thousand-fanged pirate of the air, assassin of the seas, despoiler of the earth and ambassador of Hell?

The army and navy will dig the grave, but we must furnish the spade.

Our boys will soon hang crape on the door of the Potsdam Palace, and the bands will play Yankee-Doodle and Dixie along the Rhine.

Uncle Sam is the cactus in the Kaiser's pillow.

Our boys have gone over to clean up on that fool bunch of Huns and it is up to us to supply them with whatever they need to finish the job. It takes money to keep the riveters riveting—the sawyers sawing—the machine guns spitting bullets and the grub wagon always on hand with the eats. There is nothing too good for our brave defenders.

Our vocabulary contains no words adequate to express our approval of the achievements of our government since we threw our hat in the ring. We are rich on top of the ground; we are rich under the ground and our rivers creep like silver serpents to the seas, bearing our products.

The children of England, France, Italy and Belgium are laughing once more because they are being fed from Uncle Sam's bakeshop. One carload of meat every two minutes, one hog out of every four, nine million pounds of meat a day—all going over to feed our boys. We are in this scrap to the last dollar, the last grain of wheat, the last day.

We will never stop until Germany dips her dirty blood-stained rag to the Stars and Stripes.

It's a whale of a job we've tackled, but we can and must put it over.

But you must help.

Don't whine. Don't knock. You can't saw wood with a hammer. Don't turn the hose on the fire; add fuel.

CENTRAL POWERS TOTTER

It is now manifested that the Teutonic quadrilateral is no more One of the four legs has given way. Another one is cracking and is liable to break at any moment. Previous to Allenbys striking victory the new Sultan is reported to have declared himself weary of German domination and to have instructed his Ambassador in Berlin to get a release from all previous loans and secure a new loan, or sever diplomatic relations and come heme. Austria-Hungary has been showing increasing signs of distress for six or eight months, and the Bulgarian surrender will expose it to a new attack from Servia, with the curious possibility that the war may end where it began.

With Bulgaria out of the fight, Austria-Hungary can hardly stay in. With its surrender the Last Ditch will be left to the sole occupancy of Germany. Of course the Kaiser is determined that all Germany shall die for him, and Germany has been willing to do a good deal of dying on his account because it believed it would win. Now it knows that it will not.

The terms to Bulgaria are the terms Germany will get. It must surrender its soldiers in foreign countries and demobilize those at home. These are preliminaries. The details will be furnished after they have been complied with. These details will render Germany quite harmless for as long a period as it is worth while to provide for. And if William insists on fighting the world at large he will have to do it by himself, reinforced by his six sons.

GERMANY ADMITS PLIGHT

"That War is Brutal, Remorseless Thing Comes Home to us Daily," Says Tageblatt.

Rotterdam, Oct. 2.—What the Berliner Tageblatt describes as the most "unblushing" avowal of Germany's plight yet made appears in an official appreciation of the Kaiser's action in bestowing his autographed picture upon the chief of the Raw Materials Department of the War office. It says:

"That war is a brutal, remorseless thing comes home daily to every one of us nowadays in our very flesh and bones.

"Our necessities compel us to use every ounce that our soil can yield, and every scrap of raw materials that we can lay hands on in Germany, or secure by hook or crook from abroad, for the one great object of holding our own against the resources of the whole world. The comfort of those at home must take second place. The duty devolves upon us of sacrificing the last ton of copper and nickel, of zinc or aluminum for the army; to bring forth the leather needed for man and horse, even if our children have to go barefooted or wear wooden shoes. Every ounce of wool from the backs of German sheep must be utilized to clothe our men in the field, and textiles confiscated must be turned into shirts and underwear for them.

"The resources of our soil must be exploited on the most intensive scale. Whole new industries must be created, others restricted or converted, substitutes devised of almost every sort, and their production facilitated. All these things necessitate far-reaching interference with our normal economic life in the interests of the individual and of the commonwealth alike."

SEES U-BOAT WAR END

America Turning Out More Ships Than Kaiser Can Sink, Schwab Tells Medical Society.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—American shipyards are turning out "more ships than the submarines of the Kaiser can sink," declared Charles M. Schwab, director-general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, in an address recently before the Medical Society of Pennsylvania, in session at the Bellevue-Stratford.

"Eighteen months ago," said Mr. Schwab, "there was not a shipbuilding yard in the United States adequately fitted for the construction of cargo ships. Today it is the leading shipbuilding nation of the world and is putting out more ships than the submarines of the Kaiser can sink."

Mr. Schwab added that while 21,000,000 tons of shipping have been destroyed by submarines since the war the Allied nations have replaced 14,000,000 and in order to meet the requirements of the present 18,000,000 will have to be produced. Before the war, he said, this country never produced more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping in one year.

THREE DROWNED

Members of Merry Sunday Party Meet Tragic Fate in Schuylkill River.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—Three persons, one of them a woman, were drowned in the Schuylkill River, near Mill Creek, Sunday, when a canoe containing two women and three men capsized, throwing the occupants into the water. The drowned were Mrs. Mary Hutchison, and Herman Hitchener. Hitchener was the only one of the party who could swim and he lost his life after rescuing one of the women and while trying to save the other.

The canoe party also included Miss Madeline Lamar, and Harry Luig. All were about 18 or 19 years old. They left the boathouse, where they had been staying, on the Montgomery county side of the river, early yesterday morning and paddled up to Lafayette. It was on the return trip that the accident occurred.

As the frail craft neared Mill Creek the women began skylarking and a sudden movement by one of them caused the canoe to upset. In an instant all the occupants were struggling in the water. Hitchener could easily have made his way to shore but instead he struck out toward Miss Lamar and held her up until a boat brought by an unknown rescuer from a nearby clubhouse came close enough for the woman to be lifted aboard. Hitchener then tried to aid Mrs. Hutchison, but both went down together, a the man in the boat was rowing toward them, having pulled Luig from the water.

CHILDREN TO FIGHT DISEASE.

Statewide School Campaign Urges Use of Handkerchiefs When one Coughs or Sneezes.

Richmond, Va. Oct. 2.—Now that the "man power" of Virginia has been registered by the draft boards in order that America's foes across the sea may be properly reckoned with, the State Board of Health intends to utilize the "child power" of the commonwealth—in other words, the pupils of the public schools—in order to combat equally remorseless enemies that menace us at home To put things differently, a "drive" has just been started through a campaign of education against diphtheria, scarlet fever, sore throat, mumps, bad colds, grippe, Spanish grippe, influenza, tonsilitis, meningitis, tuberculosis measles, whooping cough and pneumonia.

A rallying cry for the youngsters is sounded by the words "Save Yourself", which appear as the topliner of a striking poster to be widely distributed throughout Virginia. And then, on the same publication, the beholder sees two simple rules of health which fall naturally under the captions "Don't or Do." Here are the injunctions that carry a negative: "Don't sneeze or cough over any one; don't put in your mouth fingers, pencils or anything else that does not belong there, nor use a common drinking cup." Under the word "Do" one sees this wise advice: "Whenever you cough or sneeze, bow your head or put a handkerchief over your mouth and nose."

In explanation of the two rules the poster announces that the germs of the diseases mentioned in the opening paragraph are spread through the secretions of the mouth ant nose of sick people and carriers.

Thousands of the posters will be nailed to the walls of schoolrooms, so that their message may be burned into the memories of the children, and teachers will be urged to supplement the advice of the health authorities with admonitions of their own

In order that the pictorial lesson likewise may reach the grownups, who in many instances need it almost as badly as the children, the poster will also be hung in public places where it will readily attract attention.

Bulgaria's unconditional surrender means the first great strategic victory for the entente in this war, ending all communications between Germany and Turkey, destroying the Berlin-Bagdad dream and all hopes of a German empire in the East. Gen. d'Esperey in Salonica has been tendered by the Bulgarian deputies full control of the Bulgarian railways in order to enable the allied troops to forestall a punitive expedition by German and Austro-Hungarian troops that have already been ordered into Bulgaria by the German headquarters staff.

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the latrobe stoves.

NEWS OF THE DAY

It is impossible to keep the number of prisoners in the present allies' offensives up to date, the figures increase with such rapidity. A moderate estimate, however, shows that within the last ten days 123,000 prisoners and 1,200 guns have been taken by the allies on all fronts. The Turkish rout has produced 50,000 prisoners and 325 guns. The Bulgarian rout has added 20,000 prisoners and 350 guns. The Franco-American advance has won 19,000 prisoners and 100 guns. The British blow at Cambrai has secured 23,000 prisoners and over 300 guns. The Anglo-Belgian offensive has produced 11,000 prisoners and over 100 guns.

The woman suffrage amendment was defeated in the Senate yesterday by a record vote of 53 to 31. The real vote of the Senate, however, as shown by the pairs, was 62 to 34, or two votes short of the required two-thirds majority necessary to submit a constitutional amendment to the several States.

The French and British press, led by the London Daily Mail, London Daily Mirror, Petit Journal, Temps and Figaro, are demanding that the British and French governments serve notice upon Germany at once that full reprisals on German towns will be exacted if any more French towns are wrecked or burned in the German retreat. The Mirror says this is the only way to stop the vandalism of the Germans, who appreciate only "fear and force."

The Review die Hilfe, a German publication, carries a sincere tribute to President Wilson by Deputy Naumann, says an official dispatch from France yesterday. He deplores the lack of political leaders in Germany and says that in this respect she is greatly inferior to the United States. People do not realize, he says, the importance attached all over the world to the words of President Wilson, and the President is described as a "sort of emperor of nations, whose humanity is known and who knows how to make the people understand him." To this he adds: "No doubt much obscurity is hidden under Wilson's apparent clearness, nevertheless his formulas reach all over the world and are active. We have but a policy understood by no one."

Food conditions in Russia are continually growing worse, according to information received by the State Department yesterday from Swedish sources. Swedish newspapers of Monday carried accounts of travelers returning from Petrograd. They said foreigners were starving to death, all restaurants and hotels were closed, butter was $12 a pound, and cholera was still raging in the city. A new decree forbids anyone to have more than one suit of clothes, two pairs of boots and three shirts. The Bolshevik reign of terror, with its tremendous toll of human lives, has apparently been brought to a stop, as the advices said nothing of bloodshed or mass executions.

British cavalry in Palestine has reached the region north of Damascus, according to latest word from Gen. Sir Edmund Allenby. Other cavalry detachments have established themselves southwest of Damascus. So far 1,000 prisoners and five guns have been captured.

Orders have fallen off in German munitions factories and many hands, mostly women, have been discharged, reports the German Metal Workers' Union. Thirty thousand fewer persons are employed at making munitions than were employed a few months ago.

Following the presentation of statements showing that the power situation in the munition plants of the United States is growing extremely serious, the House yesterday passed without opposition the Emergency Power Act, authorizing the President to loan money to existing power companies and to construct new plants for the development of electrical energy.

Fresh word comes to the British government almost daily from indisputable channels of the increasing effect of allied air raids upon the German people. The Cologne Gazette frankly acknowledges that "these raids are having the effect on morale which the entente allies intended." It speaks of how the pessimism of the bombed districts is spreading to other parts of the empire through letters written from the Rhine towns.
